

School Tax Election Planned

A school tax election may be held May 19 in conjunction with the selection of two new school trustees, the Board of Education decided at its meeting Monday night.

Specifically, the Board voted to notify the county of its intention to hold a tax election. It was pointed out that the election could be cancelled or held at another time, if necessary.

In a preliminary budget report for 1959-60, the need for more income to run the schools is clearly apparent, if residents want the same level of education they now have.

SUPERINTENDENT Robert E. Walker estimated that total income for 1959-60 would approximate $353,583. The school needs, he estimated, $420,242.

"We must first determine the type of program the citizens want," said Mr. Walker. "Then we can attach a cost to each item on the program."

"Our reserves have been dwindling each year. In order to face each year with a reasonable balance, we are going to need more money."

The preliminary budget report is based on the regular increments for certificated (teachers) and classified (non-teaching) employees. Two custodians and one teacher were added.

No increase was included for inflation or additional services.

MR. WALKER said the tax rate should be sufficient to provide for a $30,000 reserve. The school will face the 1959-60 year with a reserve of only $7,654, which approaches the point of deficit financing.

A tax increase, if it is voted, would be added to the present Sierra Madre School District rate which is $1.45 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Mrs. Grace Vane, a member of the audience, urged that the question of annexing the school district to Pasadena's also be included in the ballot.

"THE TAX election itself," said Board Member Mrs. Nathan Jacobs, "may decide the question of whether we should join Pasadena."

Arthur Albertson, also a Board member, said it is "not necessarily true at this time that we would save any money by joining Pasadena."

In addition to a possible tax election, two new Board members will be selected by the voters May 19 when the terms of Mrs. Jacobs and the Board Chairman Kenneth Bush expire.

IN OTHER action, the Board assured residents who live on the south boundary of Sierra Mesa School that suitable drainage, shrub planting and other steps will be taken to insure the protection of their properties.

In a petition signed by about 10 residents, the Board was asked to provide a 10-foot buffer strip, plant cleaner bushes and erect a fence.

Pvt. Beggs Named Fort Lawton Soldier of Month

Pvt. Arthur G. Beggs, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Beggs, 54 Rancho Rd., this week received the Soldier of the Month Award from Col. John R. Dey, post commander, Fort Lawton, Wash.

Pvt. Beggs entered the Army in June, 1958. After completing basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., he arrived at Fort Lawton for on-the-job training as a company clerk.

He is a graduate of California State Polytechnic College at Pomona, with a Bachelor of Science Degree in landscape architecture.

CHARRED REMAINS of the home of Mrs. Sarri Mathews, 615 Woodland Dr., illustrates the ferocity of the fire which threatened dozens of canyon homes early Monday morning. The house at right, occupied by Phyllis Buchanan, also was damaged. Efficiency of local firemen may have prevented a major disaster.

Book Collection Plan Initiated by Friends

A new project has been initiated by the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library as a way of bringing our library up to standard.

The object is to increase the book collection to 2 1/2 volumes per capita, the minimum collection recommended by the American Library Association. The library presently has 1.9 books per capita.

Working with the Library Board and Librarian Miss Ruth Kane, the Ways and Means Committee of the Friends has compiled a list of books which may be donated by Sierra Madreans.

RESIDENTS may donate either the books or the money to purchase them. Anyone donating a book will have his name printed on the book plate. Partial donation may also be made.

Donations may be given to the library or sent to the Friends, P.O. Box 334.

Bringing the library up to standard would require the acquisition of approximately 7,300 books over a five-year period. This figure takes into account the number of volumes which must be discarded every year.

Books on the list are non-fiction and include volumes that every library should have. Among them, for example, are "The Meaning of Relativity," by Albert Einstein; "American Architecture," by Frank Lloyd Wright; and "Life of Reason," by George Santayana.

THE FRIENDS also plan to hold book sales and to establish memorial funds as supplements to their program.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee in charge of the project are Deb Watts, chairman; Noren Eaton, Florence Peterson, Dan Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andrews, George Morgridge, Mrs. May G. Wilt and two advisory members, Mrs. Anna K. Joneson and Miss Martha Pritchard.

A list of books desired by the library will be published in subsequent issues of The News.

Brotherhood Week Proclaimed By Mayor James

Brotherhood Week will be observed in Sierra Madre Feb. 15-22 under a proclamation signed by Mayor Charles H. James. The proclamation reads:

"I commend the observance of Brotherhood Week, Feb. 15-22, to all our citizens. It is well, at a time when the principles upon which our democracy is founded are gravely threatened, that we should reassert them firmly and rededicate ourselves to their daily practice."

"Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, provides an opportunity to affirm our acceptance of the obligations implicit in the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God."

City Treasurer To Speak Feb. 13

W. Murray Hawkins, city treasurer, will discuss "Investment of Surplus Funds" at the monthly meeting Feb. 13 of the Southern California Finance Officers Association. The organization meets at the Rodger Young Auditorium on Washington Blvd., Los Angeles.

Baldwin Ave. Petition Filed For Sewer

A petition for a sewer district in Baldwin Ave. has been filed with the city and probably will be discussed at the next Council meeting Feb. 10.

The district, if approved, will extend from Highland to Carter. It would be possible to attach a new line to the County Sanitation District line that ends at Highland.

Signatures on the petition were obtained by Mrs. Isabelle Steele, 385 N. Baldwin. She said that 75 per cent of the property owners have approved the district. Under the 1911 enabling act, the signatures of 60 per cent or more of the residents are required.

The petition has been referred to City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington.

Bud Green Gets City Editor Post

Bud Green, 334 Grove St., has been named city editor of the Lancers, student publication at Pasadena City College.

Bud, who formerly worked with the Recreation Department in Sierra Madre, was managing editor of the Pasadena High School paper which won the All-American award. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Green.

Rescue Crew Asks Helispots

Initial City Council action on a request to designate two municipally-owned locations as emergency helicopter landing fields, is expected at next Tuesday's meeting of the council.

A plea for the "helispot," made by Earl LaLone of the Search and Rescue Squad, has already been approved by the Parks and Recreation Commission, which urged prompt approval by the council. LaLone told the commission that location of one helispot on city property directly across the street from Sierra Madre Hospital, would result in speedier hospitalization of mountain accident victims.

He suggested the baseball diamond in Sierra Vista Park as an auxiliary location.

TENTATIVE plans for the Annual Pioneer Day celebration, sponsored by the Lions Club, were discussed before the recreation commission. June 26 and 27 are the tentative dates and the location will be the city property on Sierra Madre Blvd. adjacent to the Woman's Club. Funds raised will be used by the Lions to buy recreation equipment at the new swimming pool and to purchase trees for city parkway planting.

Expansion of the current sports program to include more emphasis on tennis, was urged on the commission by Leroy Toms, president of the Sierra Madre Tennis Club. As suggested by Mr. Toms, the program would include a tennis clinic, with specialized instruction; an Easter vacation instruction program; a Summer instructional setup; improved maintenance and purchase of new equipment.

DAVID A. SOMER, recreation director and Toms discussed plans for a Junior Tennis Tournament, to follow the Easter Instruction program. No date was set.

Suggestions for improved lighting to permit more use of the courts during evening hours, and the trimming of trees which now throw much of the playing area into shadow during the daytime, were made by Toms. The commission referred these matters to the City Administrator's office for action.

Demos to Hear Talk on Death Penalty

Dr. William F. Graves, for two years staff physician at San Quentin, will discuss capital punishment before members of the Sierra Madre Democratic Club on Tuesday, Feb. 10.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Barrett, 425 N. Canon.

Dr. Graves will appear on behalf of the Friends Committee on Legislation. The public is invited.

The club also will elect officers for 1959 and choose delegates for the district councils.

APPOINTED—Milton L. Goldberg, 590 Ramona, Sierra Madre, executive director of the Jewish Big Brothers Association of Los Angeles County, a Jewish Welfare Federation agency, this week was named to the 1959 Advisory Committee on Children and Youth by Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Goldberg joins other child welfare experts throughout the state who will plan for California's participation in the White House Conference on Children and Youth in 1960, and in the development of a program to deal with the needs of California youngsters.

Red Cross Headed by Frank Parks

Frank Parks, who has served as co-chairman of the 1959 Red Cross Campaign, has assumed full command of the project at the request of Col. Walter D. Thurber who will act as a member of Parks' staff. The change was made because of Col. Thurber's health.

Mr. Parks is holding conferences with the chiefs of the various sections of the campaign looking forward to the "kick off" breakfast of all workers late in February or early March.

Blaze Destroys Home, Burns Trees, Building

The Sierra Madre Canyon area was saved from what could have been a devastating fire early Tuesday morning by prompt and efficient action of the local Volunteer Fire Department.

The department was called at 2:08 a.m. and arrived four minutes later at the scene of a roaring fire at the home of Mrs. Sarri Mathews, 29, of 615 Woodland Dr.

The flames destroyed the Mathews' residence, badly scorched the adjacent house occupied by Phyllis A. Buchanan, partially burned a storage building at the rear and seared several nearby trees.

THE STORAGE building, owned by Russell Thorne, 584 Brookside Lane, was badly damaged by fire and water. Several paintings stored in the building were destroyed.

Mrs. Thorne credited the Fire Department with saving "our homes and the canyon."

"It's a wonderful feeling," she said, "to know that we have men like Fire Chief Charles Brown to depend on."

MRS. MATHEWS suffered minor burns and was taken to the Sierra Madre Hospital for treatment. Miss Buchanan also sustained minor burns from falling tar. She was treated on the spot.

Fire Chief Charles Brown said four hoses were used to dampen the flames, one of which was connected to a fire hydrant on Churchill Rd. and strung across the canyon to Woodland Dr.

Firefighters continually sprayed trees and surrounding buildings with water to keep fire from spreading. An awning on a house across Woodland caught fire from falling sparks, but was quickly extinguished.

FIGHTING the fire were 27 members of the local department. The Forest Service also was alerted, and the Arcadia Fire Department sent equipment for standby duty at the Sierra Madre station.

Chief Brown said the absence of a wind probably saved the canyon from an inferno that could have destroyed hundreds of homes. Earlier Monday evening, the wind blew strongly, but it died down later in the evening.

Miss Buchanan, who was awake at the time, said she heard a crackling noise, looked out the window and saw the flames. She ran to the telephone, dialed the operator and reported the fire.

"WHEN I walked outside," she recalled, "the whole house was exploding. The windows were popping and it looked like nothing in this world would save my home or the surrounding houses."

"Then the firemen arrived. Those men are wizards. In a matter of minutes, it seemed like they had everything under control."

Mrs. Mathews also apparently called the fire department, and then ran outside. She reportedly was burned by falling tar.

During the height of the fire, when the tops of several trees were blazing, many residents of both Woodland Dr. and Churchill Rd. were preparing to leave their homes.

Cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

Community Chest Sets Annual Meet

All members and agencies of the Community Chest are invited by the Board of Directors to the annual meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 5, at the Community Nursery School. An award will be presented to the agency which made the best showing in the last campaign for funds.

After a social hour, a business meeting will follow when officers will be elected from among the 21 directors for the coming year.

Present officers include William H. Coulson, president; Mrs. C. L. Young, vice president; Mrs. Burton N. Cousins, secretary, and E. R.

Other directors include James F. Abernethy, Kenneth Cleaver, Edward Nellis, R. J. Rickman, Mrs. Richard Barden, Joe J. Butler, Gordon G. McMillan, F. William Simmons, J. Bryce Tyler, Mrs. Jack S. Thorpe, Mrs. Maggie Ascher, Carl Cheadle, Kenneth A. Green, Rev. Ray E. Hansen, Mrs. Everett N. Shaw, William Vensel and Mrs. A. C. Wilfong.

The Chest recently completed a successful campaign to raise funds to support its agencies.

Methodist Minister to Visit Japan

The Sierra Madre Methodist Church has accepted the invitation from the United Church's General Board of Evangelism, in Nashville, Tenn., to send its minister, Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters, to the Centenary Mission to Japan in July, 1959.

He will be gone for 10 weeks to further the United Church's project of cooperative evangelism.

Dr. McPheeters will be working with a nucleus that has been formed in Japan. He will visit homes, conduct worship services, hold meetings, and retreats for various interest groups of Christianity in one village in Japan.

The invitation has been extended to 27 other churches of many faiths, to help establish 28 churches in needy areas of Japan.

The local church has begun raising funds to cover the expenses needed to finance the mission.

Report Cemetery City Problem

The problem of maintaining the Sierra Madre Cemetery was placed in the lap of city officials Tuesday night by the Coordinating Council.

A report—prepared by a committee appointed by the Coordinating Council—argues:

1. The City of Sierra Madre, as a municipal corporation, already has vested in it title to the land on which is located the cemetery.
2. The plain language of the statute covering the situation cannot be ignored.
3. The City of Sierra Madre should assume the operation of the cemetery.

THE COMMITTEE, headed by G. Norman Kennedy, an attorney, agreed unanimously with these recommendations. Other members of the committee are Newell Barrett, also an attorney, William F. Eagan, Leland Marsh and Janet S. Wood.

The committee's decision is based on the Health and Safety Code which states, in part, that "the title to lands situated in or near any city and used by the inhabitants without interruption as a cemetery for five years is vested in the inhabitants of the city . . ."

Another section of the code says the "management, conduct and regulation of burials, the disposition of plots, and keeping them in order, are under control of the city"

owning the cemetery."

THE 10-PAGE report, which represents several weeks of research by the committee, lists several alternatives, but rejects them either as impracticable or not pertinent to the solution of the local problem.

The governing body of a city, for example, could provide for the removal of human remains from cemeteries in which no interments have been made for two years.

This solution, of course, is not applicable here since there have been burials in the past two years. In addition, the citizens of Sierra Madre probably would not approve such a course.

The report also reveals that the County of Los Angeles has no intention of maintaining the cemetery, and that it could not be incorporated since the original owners are all dead or have disappeared. In addition, the cemetery has not been maintained by the corporation for many years.

THE ESTABLISHMENT of an endowment care fund, which was earlier thought to be a solution, was also dismissed as being an "inordinately expensive" procedure.

The committee discovered that the cemetery was first incorporated on Dec. 5, 1894, listing as original directors W. S. Andrews, J. Hart, W.

H. Robinson, S. T. DePancier, C. M. Clark and E. R. Norris. Hart, Clark, DePancier and Robinson are interred in the Sierra Madre Cemetery.

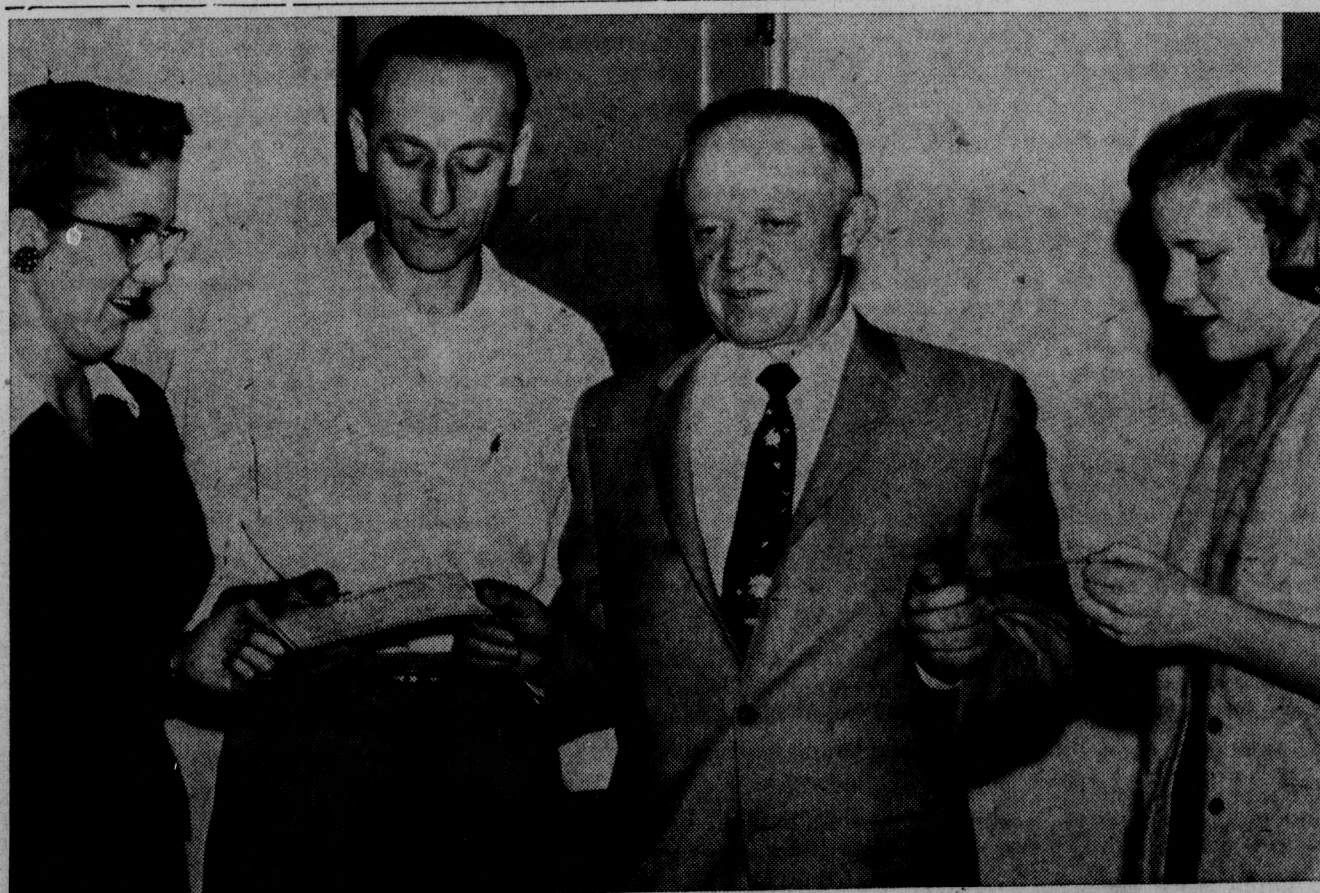

New articles of incorporation were filed July 24, 1911, listing as subscribers John Sinclair, A. S. Mead and Christiana L. Calvert.

IN OTHER business, the Coordinating Council nominated Peggy Cheadle as president for 1959-60.

Also nominated are James Hall, first vice president, membership; Ann Tyler, second vice president, public relations; Kenneth Green, third vice president, program; G. Norman Kennedy, fourth vice president, representative to the City Council; Helen Smith, recording secretary; Pat Ferber, corresponding secretary, and Ray Pickett, treasurer.

Members of the Nominating Committee are Dr. Paul Narcorwich, Elena Brown and Knox Hagler.

New Street Needed Now

For 10 years or more now it has been proposed by various groups, individuals and city planners that a street be built south of the Sierra Madre business district from Baldwin through to Hermosa.

But, like so many good proposals in Sierra Madre, all plans for the street went awry, snagged on the horns of personal interest.

Once again the city is attempting to build a street, and once again it looks like the plan may fail through personal considerations on the part of property owners.

NOW SELF-INTEREST, particularly enlightened self-interest, is a laudable trait without which we would all soon be rusting in economic limbo. But so many conflicting emotions have been aroused by the simple proposal to build a street that property owners, in some cases, can't see the forest for the trees.

It is so patently obvious that a street will benefit all property owners, both business and residential, that a selling job seems unnecessary. But that is not the way of the world.

If a street is built through, everybody's property should increase in value from two to three times. This is true, because a street would make the area highly desirable, both as an extension of the commercial zone along S. Baldwin, and as a multiple dwelling district.

APARTMENT BUILDINGS mean more people which in turn means more business for local merchants.

Furthermore, a street would make for easy access and egress into the big parking area behind the bank and several businesses to the east. It's difficult to see why this fact alone should not make the project a desirable one.

The cost of building the street and acquiring the property has been estimated by City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington at approximately $45,000. The returns to the property owners who would have to share in this cost could be double or triple their original investment in the sale of land alone.

AND IF, as is proposed, apartments are built in this area, a street seems vital. An alley, one which would undoubtedly be blocked periodically by trucks, would not be adequate to handle the traffic.

An alley behind the stores from Baldwin to the bank is also desirable, particularly as a method of keeping unloading trucks off Sierra Madre Blvd.

But an alley at the expense of a street seems to me a pretty poor proposition.—H.W.E.

Red Cross Deserves Support

It's hard to imagine bread lines in Sierra Madre, but there was a grim facsimile of one here during the depression. And in this case the Red Cross came to the aid of destitute families, just as it helps Sierra Madreans in many ways today.

There was no organization here during the early 1930's equipped to supply food to the needy. Seeing the obvious need, the Red Cross stepped in and remained in its capacity as a welfare agency for 10 years.

A FOOD DEPOT was established in the old Town Hall, then located on the lot where the present Union Oil station now stands. Flour, other foods and clothing were brought here in car load lots.

Later, the depot was moved to the building now occupied by the McKibben Furniture Store, and volunteer workers enlisted by the hundreds.

Up to 100 families were helped with donations of food and clothing. Volunteers manned dozens of sewing machines in the old building that formerly stood south of Roberts Market.

The work of the Red Cross was continued, not just for a few weeks, but year after year until the need had passed.

ALTHOUGH THE depression is now only an unpleasant memory, the local chapter of the American Red Cross still serves you in many ways and will continue to serve you—providing it gets your support.

You can show your appreciation starting March 1—the beginning of the organization's annual drive for funds.

Is South Awakening to Law of the Land?

By Robert G. Spivack

IS THE SOUTH COMING TO ITS SENSES?—The acceptance of the facts of life by Virginia's Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, that the rights of Negroes must be respected and that school integration is the law of the land, poses some interesting problems in the study of a political personality. Can a Southern politician—realistic as most politicians are—actually convince his constituents that segregation is dead? And can such a politician survive in politics?

Last fall, Almond and the states' attorney-general agreed that Sen. Harry F. Byrd's "massive resistance" laws must be tested in the state courts as well as face inevitable challenge by the NAACP in the federal courts. Some shrewd observers of Virginia politics wrote at the time that Almond was looking for a face-saving way to sound retreat in the fight against school integration. They felt he was determined, not to behave as Arkansas' Orval Faubus had. This view was also shared by the ardent segregationist element, who sent the governor abusive letters with the general theme of "Et tu, Brute."

ALMOND, OF COURSE, promptly denied that putting the question up to the Virginia courts was in any way a prelude to retreat. He ordered state officials to continue with their various legal dodges and he also went around making inflammatory speeches.

Then came the Virginia court decision. The conservative Southerners on this court struck down the anti-integration laws just as decisively as had the U.S. Supreme Court with its nine "Yankee justices."

Almond then confounded everyone. Instead of graciously accepting the court decision he took to the airwaves. "I will not yield to that which I know is wrong," he cried. He referred to the "livid stench of sadism, sex, immorality and juvenile pregnancy infesting the mixed schools of the District of Columbia and elsewhere."

Thoughtful Virginians shook their heads sadly and wondered if the pressure from segregationist fanatics had caused Almond to lose control of himself.

But now it appears there was some method in that "madness." Almond apparently felt he had to take the collective hand of the wild fanatics and carefully lead them towards the acceptance of legal reality. If it all works out peacefully, then Almond will go down as one of the South's shrewdest politicians. But if all those invitations to disorder finally produce the opposite results—what then? Playing around with human emotions can be a dangerous business.

DARING DUNNAGAN. Barbara Dunnagan, PTA chairman, put on an impromptu sketch in front of the bank the other day when she bravely halted the east-bound travels of an occupied car.

When the parallel-parked auto began rolling, Barbara ran in front and stopped it until an unidentified gallant leaped in the driver's seat and applied the brake.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

Had Los Angeles been smoggy 50 years ago it probably never would have become the movie capital of the world. The first time I met Cecil DeMille he told me he and Lasky and Goldwyn forsook the East Coast for the West in quest of sun, shine, preferably in Arizona. But it was raining in Arizona so they came on to Los Angeles.

INCIDENTALLY, the famous "Lasky barn" was more than they rented. Their venture was so speculative they rented only half the barn. "When they washed carriages in the other half," DeMille told me, "the water ran out through our side and I had to put my feet on my desk. I was trying to translate 'The Squaw Man' into the first motion picture drama ever produced, and we couldn't afford to take time out for a stream."

ONCE DeMILLE'S secretary phoned me: "Mr. DeMille wants you to come out for lunch today." That royal command surprised me, for I had met DeMille only half a dozen times. But I had heard that James Hilton was writing a script of "The Story of Dr. Wassell, and both Hilton and Dr. Wassell were friends of mine. I went, but when I mentioned Hilton, DeMille said: "He's not on the picture any more. We had to teach Jimmy Hilton how to write!"

That stunned me, for I considered Hilton a far better writer than DeMille. On another occasion another famous writer friend of mine, working on one of DeMille's pictures, submitted an idea he thought was a master piece but all DeMille said was: "What crazy so and so thought that up?" Both pictures, as he made them, were successful. Those incidents showed me DeMille's supreme self-confidence.

I LIKED DeMille best for what he did for Ayn Rand. She worked her way through the University of Petrograd by translating movie gossip from English and American newspapers for Russian papers. After graduation she headed for Hollywood, and no studio would let her pass its gates. She was outside the gates at MGM one day when rain came down. She was nearly broke and could not afford to get soaked.

She hurried toward the car line. She was almost in despair when a car stopped and the man in it asked if he could give her a lift to the car line. When she thanked him he noticed her accent and asked questions. No car was in sight and he asked if it would help if he took her all the way to Hollywood and Vine, which was directly on his way home.

"Can you sew?" he asked. She could. When he stopped to let her out he scribbled on a card and said, "Take that to the wardrobe department at MGM, and maybe they'll give you a job sewing." She got the job, and put in evenings writing a play. She asked DeMille to read it. He told her what was wrong with it. She wrote another play which was produced in Hollywood and did so well it was taken to New York, and the future author of "The Fountainhead" was on her way. I think I gave her the first publicity she got before she had won any success and still was sewing for a living. Despite her own great talents I doubt that she ever would have got a start but for the generous interest of DeMille.

News of the Churches

LYNNE SANDERS and Nicolette Miller are seen in costume representing totem poles which they made during Trinity Presbyterian Church School of Missions study of Alaska.

Trinity School of Missions Features Study of Alaska

The School of Missions series now being conducted at Trinity Presbyterian Church recently featured our new 49th state—Alaska.

Children of the primary class, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Miller, made brown paper totem poles, coloring the brilliant designs with crayons. During the supper hour, the children, Lynne Sanders, Nicolette Miller, Cathy Curry, and Susanne and Virginia Davis, modeled their totem poles for those attending the supper.

THE SPEAKER for the evening was Miss Nancy La Rue, a student at Occidental College, who participated in a Presbyterian National Missions work camp in Alaska this past summer. The group of students refurnished a building that is being used as a dormitory for Eskimo and Indian girls. Miss La Rue showed a number of colored slides of their summer trip.

This next Sunday evening, Feb. 8, will conclude the School of Missions with the proposed 50th state, Hawaii, being featured. The speaker will be Dr. Carroll L. Shuster, executive secretary of the Synod of California, the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

DR. SHUSTER recently returned from Hawaii where he participated in the opening of a new church work, sponsored by the Committee of National Missions of the Presbytery of Los Angeles. To capture the spirit of Hawaii for those attending, the Schooner Club of the church will serve an authentic Luau as a part of the evening program.

Easter Classes Planned by Dr. Barnhart

According to Dr. Ethel Barnhart, "As heat and light are forever streaming forth from the sun to bless and help man, so God's life and love and truth are forever streaming forth from the Divine Source to help man in his everyday experiences. However, the beneficent effect of this eternal flow can only be experienced as man opens his mind to the Divine influx."

A pre-Easter class will be conducted by Dr. Barnhart Wednesday mornings 10:30 to 11:30, starting Wednesday, Feb. 11 through March 26. The public is invited. The annual membership meeting will be held Friday evening, Feb. 6, with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Society to Assist in Historical Symposium

The first Southern California Historical Symposium will be held in the Los Angeles County Museum building in Exposition Park, Los Angeles, tomorrow (Friday) evening at 6:30 and all day Saturday, from 9:30 a.m.

Historical society groups from cities of the Southland will be present to participate in panel discussions, attend assemblies for both cultural and business matters, and to meet each other individually, assisted by a large group of greeters who are the host and hostess committee of the Historical Society of Southern California.

MRS. H. RANDOLPH WOOD, president of the Sierra Madre Historical Society is in charge of registration at the Symposium at 6:30 p.m., Friday, and again at 9:30 a.m., Saturday.

Highlights of the program on Friday evening also include the Roving Troubadours — Juanito Benavides and Troupe (from Spain); the Greeters and Introductions; welcome by Dr. Jean Delacour, director of the L.A. County Museum; and an address, "The Historical Society" (its nature and purpose), by Dr. Carl Dentzel, director of the Southwest Museum.

Saturday, during coffee hour with registration, the Roving Troubadours will live the scene, followed at 10:20 by assembly, and a group, under the direction of Miss Anita Lugo of El Monte, presenting some early California dances, followed by four panel discussions "for successful historical society ventures."

Lunch is from 12 to 1:20. At 1:30, Mr. Frank Putnam will speak on "Oo-tse-tee Ar-dee-tah Skee was father of California."

THIS WILL be followed by slides on "The Museum Visitor," by reports from each Southern California historical society, a report concerning plans for next year's Symposium, and a concluding address by Dr. Rockwell Dennis Hunt, president emeritus, Conference of California Historical Societies, and member for 50 years, now aged 90, speaker and author, whose next book "Fifteen Decisive Events in California" will be published in the spring.

It is announced that any of the 140 members of the Sierra Madre Historical Society and their friends are welcome to attend, and may telephone Mrs. Wood, ELgin 5-9891 for information on transportation. Cars should go to the south entrance, Exposition Park, 900 Exposition Blvd.

Money may not bring real happiness, but many will say the imitation is almost perfect.

HOW TO WIN AD-RIME PRIZES

The arrow points to the "Guideline": Add Expense to Purchase Tag. Ad-RIME lines must tie in and rhyme with the Guideline. Your entry MUST carry the "Hidden Slogan." Find it among the ads—one word in each column starting at the left. You don't have to buy anything to win prizes but MUST find and write the hidden Slogan. Preference is given to AD-RIME lines that tie in well and BOOST LOCAL TRADE. Get the swing—the two lines are a "jingle." One which can't win is: This May Make a Bargain Tag, but you must write original ones. Good luck — and keep trying.

Paintings Of Missions In Library

Leon Bayard de Volo's paintings of the California missions are now on display in the children's section of the Sierra Madre Public Library.

The artist has shown sensitive understanding of one of the most colorful periods in California's history in these canvases. Style and technique vary in the different paintings, but each reflects the calm peacefulness of the era of the padres.

Mr. de Volo is known widely in California for his model-making, as well as for his oils and watercolors. He has specialized in model settings for many film studios, as well as for commercial and industrial firms.

Of particular interest are his models of the missions on display at Knotts Berry Farm in Buena Park. The mission models are accurate to the smallest detail, varying in size from 18 to 34 inches in height, and covering up to almost 100 feet of floor space for the largest.

In addition, Nancy's younger brother and sister appear as two "brats" who visit on Vashan Island. The play, which deals with the adventures of the MacDonald family, will also be given Saturday night. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Funeral Rites Observed for John T. Fearney

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Fearney, with whom he made his home, and two sisters, Miss Dorothy Fearney, San Diego, and Mrs. Natalie Babcock, Attleboro, Mass.

Principles may be good to talk about, but it's the almighty dollar that has the drawing power.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SY 7-9634

Well, we finally got through January and what a relief that is. I took care of all my household resolutions in one month, and now I intend to rest on my laurels the rest of the year. I might add that I am particularly obnoxious to my entire family with my new regime of neatness. Matter of fact, I can hardly stand myself, and what's more, I can't lay my finger on anything I want any more. Every thing is where it is supposed to be, but the only places I can remember are where they were. It will probably take me the rest of the eleven months to stir everything up again, but at least no-one can say I didn't try.

MR. AND MRS. Aikman Armstrong of Fairpoint gave a surprise dinner party last Friday evening to honor Mrs. Ted Grace on her birthday. There was great hilarity among the guests as they sought out the clues which the Armstrongs had cleverly placed throughout the entire house for an inside treasure hunt. A buffet dinner was served mid-evening. The guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Ted Grace, John Norcott, James Bell, John Fink, Glennon Boldeman, Robert Wegge and James Munroe.

MR. AND MRS. H. C. Tumilty of Sierra Madre Villa recently hosted at a spaghetti dinner in their home. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kanak, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russ, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garrison.

MRS. GEORGE HOLMES of Old House Road gave a bridge luncheon last week to honor Mrs. F. W. Sorgenfreid and Mrs. Benjamin F. Bills. The other guests were Mesdames Dave Elmer, Gardner Wilson, Joseph Phillipson, Robert Anderson, Norman White, L. M. Anderson, Lyncoln Wilson, Edwin Pyle and Ira Lackey.

MR. JOHN M. Wills of 2941 Doane Road has finally returned home after a prolonged business trip in Kalamazoo, Michigan. He was gone for almost a month.

SUSAN WILLS celebrated her fourteenth birthday last Friday night with a party held at Alvaro Street. After seeing the sights the young people had refreshments there. Her guests were Janie Milne, Judy Tyler, Bob Smith, John Savage, and Bryan Smith.

DR. AND MRS. John G. Alin of Meyer Lea Lane entertained at a neighborhood cocktail and dinner party last Saturday night. Their guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Neal Batterson, Ward Clark, Laurence Deitzel, Karl Deitzel, L. T. Greiner, Dan Marvosh, Edward Meyer, Jack Milne, Harry Pulaski, John Wills, and F. Wayne Furstemberger.

MR. AND MRS. George R. Prescott of Trevan Road will mark January 28th as an important day on their calendar. Their son Joel Robert was born on that day at the Huntington Memorial Hospital. He weighed in at 7 pounds, 14 ounces. He has two sisters, Robin, 8, and Allison, aged 7. Congratulations, Prescotts!

I FINALLY was able to reach Marian Smale and Ethel Clark of Sierra Madre Villa. They spent so much time last year traveling that it has been impossible to catch them. They went to Europe via S.A.S. to Copenhagen, where they spent four days, on to Vienna where they enjoyed the Solz-burg Music Festival; then to Munich, Bavaria, Liechtenstein, Turkey, Zermott, Switzerland; then to England where they visited with relatives for a week before embarking by boat to Venice, via Greece, Yugoslavia, and innumerable islands in the Mediterranean. Then they visited Florence, Rome and the hill towns of Italy. They went from there back to Cop-

Bridge and Valentines

Shakespeare
Club Member
Meet Feb. 17

Members of Shakespeare Club of Pasadena will meet Feb. 17 at 11 a.m. in the auditorium. Mrs. Lloyd R. Severe, director of current events department, will present Carl Terzian, former student body president of University of California at Berkeley and a participant in the circle of the globe tour sponsored by the State Department International Exchange Service, who will speak on "Role of Youth Today in Nations and the World."

Luncheon will follow in Stratford House with Miss Helen Louise Taylor, president. Three students from Pasadena City College will present a "Musical Program."

The group will then adjourn to the auditorium where they will hear Edna Stearns Dayton interpret a current Broadway hit.

The poetry department will meet Feb. 16 at 11:30 a.m. in Stratford House. Miss Margaret Hookway will present "Poetry of France."

The American Homes Department will meet Feb. 18 in Stratford House at 8:15 p.m. Mrs. Jack F. Patch, director, will preside and Marjorie Bliss will discuss "American Design."

EDUCATION VIA TV

"Educational Television—What's Ahead?" will be the topic when Dr. Foster Davidson, dean of administration of Compton College, addresses Pasadena branch, American Association of University Women, at the group's monthly luncheon meeting this Saturday at the Women's City Club.

TV Show Unites Alaskan
With Hastings Ranch Sister

The R. F. Gerke household, 3860 Mayfair, is almost back to normal with the return to Alaska of Mrs. Gerke's sister, after a reunion brought about by the TV show, "It Could Be You." It was the first time in more than nine years that Mrs. Gerke and her six sisters and brothers living in Southern California had seen Mrs. A. J. Grinnell, of Spenard, Alaska, a suburb of Anchorage. Two other brothers were unable to be here for the round of celebrating and parties.

Bill Leyden's television show actually reunited Mrs. Grinnell with Mrs. Kenneth Hamon, of Whittier, the two youngest of the family's 10 children, left orphans when Mrs. Hamon was of preenahen to return home. They have been giving travel lectures ever since their return, using the many beautiful movies they shot while there.

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

A distinguished Hastings Ranch neighbor, Dr. Robert Jenkins, superintendent of Pasadena school district, will talk about steering the "proper course" in this era of newly awakened interest in public school education at the PTA meeting at Eugene Field School at 7:30 Wednesday night. Dr. Jenkins, his charming wife Grace, and daughter live at 1545 Riviera.

It was a marvelous 10-day vacation in Sun Valley for Landfair Rd. neighbors Dood and Jack Baker and John and Aleene Hedrick. The weather was good, the snow perfect for skiing, food wonderful, and to top it off Dood had her picture taken in the bear hug of eminent novelist Ernest Hemingway, also there on vacation.

Erstwhile resident Cathy (Mrs. A. Edsel) Curry, now living nearby on Foothill in Arcadia, is home recuperating from surgery. Joan and Ogden Boden, also former Ranchites, temporarily residing in Sierra Madre, are all set to build on their lot high in Altadena.

Very interesting afternoon was had by ladies of Las Jardineras when for their January meeting they had a wine tasting program, sponsored by the California Wine Advisory Board and the Almaden Wine Co. Most went home taking the pledge to drink more and the best of California wines.

Jo Caffee and Marie Walsh looked mighty perky when they left for the races last week. Judging from their expressions "after the ball was over," they made a dollar or two for themselves.

Friends of Myra and Orville Johnson were saddened to hear of the death of her father, Hugh Campbell. Many of us learned to know the Campbells when the Johnsons were Ranch residents.

Members of Hastings Ranch group of Needlework Guild of America will have a number of things to sew on when they meet the end of this month. A "cutting" committee, Mary Newton, Marie Walsh, LaRetta Adams, Dorothy Castor, Jo Caffee, Ellen Tobias and Marion White, met at Robbie Pruitt's house last Thursday to convert three bolts of material into garments.

Wish I could have been "on deck" when Pearl Jud converted her back yard into a "paint and dip" establishment with decorations for the forthcoming CF Guild luncheon and fashion show at Huntington-Sheraton Hotel, on the production line. Las Sequitas chairman, Gwen Shiner, and assistant chairman, Vicki Richter, were also present with their hands, up to the elbows, immersed in water soluble paint.

Classes to Begin Feb. 20

Fourth, fifth and sixth graders will study from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m., and second and third graders from 4:15 to 5 p.m. The classes will run through May.

Take your problems to Church this week —

Millions Leave Them There!

How May We Get in Tune With This Scheme of Things?

There is a fascination in watching a power shovel at work. So awkward appearing yet so graceful and precision-like. Its action might be compared to the movement of the Heavenly bodies. Here too we have split-second precision. As we observe the giant and marvelous Universe machine we may ask "what is the source of power that makes it function so perfectly? Who controls it all?" When we try to answer these questions, this much we do know, that we each have a part to play in this overall pattern.

How may we place ourselves in harmony with the power that created and operates this Universe? We don't know all the answers but we do know that living in harmony and cooperating with one another is a step forward — that we have an institution to help us gain this goal — the Church of each person's choice. More and more people are putting themselves in tune with this scheme of things by attending church. If you are not now attending regularly why not give it a trial?

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Look for Favorite Camellia During Blooming Period

There's no time like bloom time to find the perfect camellia. You not only see the commonly-pictured varieties blooming, you also find many less common or unusual camellias to select from.

All of which is why the California Association of Nurserymen suggests you drop by a member nursery now. A good many varieties are at the peak of their bloom.

Others are just getting started and still others are hanging on after an early show of color.

IN THIS latter category, and certainly one of the most striking camellias of the lot, is the 1959 All-America winner, Sweetheart. The color of this beauty is a striking and unique apricot-pink. You'll find it in bloom from late fall well into winter. Blooms can often be expected in March when and where weather is not so unseasonably warm as to force all its bloom earlier.

Look also (you can't overlook it if it's in bloom) for Cinderella, the sensational 1957 All-America camellia.

once-scarce arrivals from China are becoming more plentiful with each new season and consequently less expensive. Reticulata prices are not down with the common japonicas yet, but their huge, wavy blooms are a bargain at any price.

AMONG THE reticulatas, look for Buddha, a 1958 All-America winner—crisp and glossy pink; Crimson Robe, with huge glowing red blooms and Butterfly Wings with six-inch wavy blooms in deep pink.

These are only a handful of the unusual varieties you'll find. We'll bet you can turn up half a dozen varieties you like as much or more.

CHAPTER MEETING

Foothill Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, will have its regular monthly meeting Feb. 9 at 8 p.m. in the home of its president, Mrs. T. M. Conclaine, 135 E. Laurel. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Fishing Is Tops In Guaymas

By Al Miyadi

ON THE ROAD—Life in the white-collar factory is driving me nuts.

Maybe . . . Guaymas is located on the western side of the Mexican mainland midway between Nogales and Mazatlan.

I drove to Guaymas (pronounced Y-mas) a few years ago. On a fast road with a slow car we made the trip in 19 hours.

There were four of us. The whole trip including boats, hotels, auto expenses, booze, gifts, everything, cost each of us around $100 for a week's stay.

Plane fare, by the way, is around $33 round-trip—from T.J.

We managed to rent the hotel's Chris-Craft marlin cruiser, a cabin job powered by a brand new Chrysler, for only $30. The cost included a skipper, deckhand, drinks, sandwiches, and marlin tackle.

The skipper, a pot-bellied veteran of 20 fishing seasons in the Sea of Cortez, explained apologetically that the fishing was slow, too early.

No, he said, no totuava. No, he said, no barracuda. But, he said, lots of yellowtail.

We caught a 80-pound totuava, a two-pound barracuda, but not one yellowtail.

EVEN SO early (February), the bays teem with fish. And sharks.

During one stop, we took a dozen sharks. They definitely are a hazard in Mexican waters.

The marlin and sails come in later. At this time of year, it's mostly corvina, sierra, bonito, yellowtail, jack crevalle, and an occasional rooster. Bottom fish (groupers to 250 lbs.) are always plentiful.

And, as elsewhere in the Gulf, there always is the triggerfish (to eight pounds). He's a natural on ultra-light tackle. One day from an outboard ($14 for a 14-foot glass job with a 15-hp Mercury), we boated over 50.

THE MAIN trouble, I think, is that the Gringo confuses Guaymas with Tijuana.

CALL ME — Anytime you plan a Mexican fishing trip, give me a jingle—be happy to help you. No, I do not run a travel agency—which means I'll give you the straight dope. Phone is AT-lantic 8-3294. Anytime.

GUAYMAS HOTELS are not exactly from Las Vegas, but they're clean, kept clean, and air-conditioned. There are about four sizeable and first-class hotels, all with their own bar, restaurant, and boats. The Cortez is the only one with a swimming pool and also very expensive. Our hotel room cost $5 for a double (with bath). The clerk was courteous, informed, and spoke English.

In Guaymas conditions are fairly constant; the water is always suspect, the chicken is always tough, the steaks are still blood-fresh from the range, and the sea food the finest in the world.

Dinner costs average $1.25.

The people are extremely friendly, a fact which amazes me because many of the American tourists are bores, loud, rude, and drunk most of the time.

Because it was off-season, Guaymas with Tijuana.

GUAYMAS RANKS among the most beautiful ports in all the world. Its harbor is a complex seawork of tiny islands and inlets and back-bays.

Because it was off-season, Guaymas with Tijuana.

TO TRAIN students at the Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., school of the U. S. Army Engineers, these International crawler tractors are used for earthmoving demonstrations. The 10 tractors are part of an array of 234 machines operated in the six-weeks' course.

Diabetes Among Leading Causes of Death in U.S.

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D., L.A. County Health Officer

Diabetes, the term generally used for the disease that is called diabetes mellitus by the medical profession, is still the eighth greatest cause of death in the United States.

Although the disorder does not rank so high as a cause of death in Los Angeles County, nevertheless there are about 54,000 known cases of the disorder in this area and it is estimated that there are probably an equal number of cases as yet undiscovered. Death from this cause is largely preventable, because of all the serious chronic diseases it is perhaps the easiest to control if discovered and treated early enough.

DIABETES IS a condition that occurs when the pancreas does not manufacture enough of the hormone called insulin, which enables the cells to utilize sugar that is taken in food and convert it into the heat and energy needed by the body. The sugar accumulates in the blood stream and is then carried away through the kidneys taking with it the food and water normally used by the body.

The disease has probably been known for so long as there is a written record of mankind. Up until the discovery of insulin by Drs. Banting and Best in 1921, treatment was limited to a starvation diet, the degree of starvation depending on the severity of the diabetes.

Detection of diabetes is not difficult. A simple test of the urine will reveal the presence of sugar if the individual has the disorder. In those cases where sugar is found, a blood test is used to confirm the diagnosis. There are diseases other than diabetes which cause sugar to appear in the urine, but all conditions that induce this change should be investigated.

The people most likely to develop diabetes are those individuals who are either past 40, have a family history of the disorder, or are overweight. Indeed, it is estimated that more than 80 out of every 100 persons are overweight before the condition develops. Statistics show that about two out of every three diabetics are women, while the incidence of the disease appears higher in sedentary workers of both sexes than among those engaged in active occupations.

DIABETES IS absolutely unpredictable however. Although victimized less frequently, nevertheless about 8 per cent of the known treated diabetics are youngsters under 15 years of age. Underweight individuals, persons doing hard physical labor, or individuals with no known diabetics in their families for generations may also get the disease. Several years ago, surveys indicated that there were approximately 6 or 7 diabetics in each 1,000 college students.

Besides increased thirst and appetite, symptoms of diabetes may include weakness, drowsiness, dry skin, excessive urination, and loss in weight. Boils and diabetes are so frequently associated that an individual troubled with boils should make certain that he does not have the disease. When the condition is mild, however, there may be no outward sign whatsoever that anything is wrong.

In certain cases, where the dysfunction of the pancreatic gland is slight, the use of insulin is unnecessary and dietary control is all that is needed. Other diabetics, however, must take insulin in addition to a prescribed diet.

Smog Case Convictions Increase

Conviction of nearly 500 smog violators in December was double that of the corresponding period a year ago, it was reported by the Air Pollution Control District.

In a report to Control Officer Smith Griswold, Louis J. Fuller, enforcement director, said 498 out of 551 smog cases filed were tried in Los Angeles County courts in December.

Of that number, 475 violators pleaded guilty, 10 others were convicted after trial, five were acquitted and 10 alleged violators were dismissed by the courts.

In comparison, during the same period a year ago 220 smog violators were tried out of 253 cases that were filed. Of these, 206 pleaded guilty, six were convicted and eight others were dismissed. There were no acquittals.

As of Dec. 31, there was a total of 1,174 court cases still to be tried.

Fines assessed last month totaled $7,867 including 95 bail forfeitures.

APCD inspectors made 1,538 inspections of petrochemical and refinery plants and 2,972 industrial plant inspections during the month. During the same period, uniformed patrol inspectors responded to 1,679 public complaints, Fuller said.

ASSETS INCREASE

One of the best years in its history has just been concluded by Pasadena Federal Savings and Loan Association, announced president-manager Hamilton Patton in presenting his executive officer's report at the annual January meeting of members. An increase of more than 9 per cent in total assets was achieved during 1958, principally from the acquisition of new savings members. Over $1,700,000 in dividends was distributed to these members at the current annual rate of 4 per cent, Patton disclosed.
